

XM provides a valuable service to its customers and should not have to be stopped from providing valuable services to its customers at the expense of big business